

VICTIM KEYES FACING TAYLOR QUOD

Grand Jury to Ask Report on Eastern Jaunt

Summons to be Issued Data Not Proffered

Conflicting Rumors Will Sifted Thoroughly

Distr.-Atty. Keyes faces a grand jury investigation of his mysterious jaunt through the country on what was purported to be a new investigation into the murder of William Desmond, film director, when he returns to the city next week. It was learned from a authority source yesterday the grand jury expects Keyes to submit a detailed report on his trip following return.

While William H. Caro, man of the inquisitorial body, declined to comment on the report, he said that it was his policy to take an active interest in cases which are of such public interest.

Keyes, according to a memorandum received by Chief Dep. Dist. Atty. Harold L. Davis, one of his deputies, who accompanied him on the trip, early next week.

SUMMONS LIKELY

According to information at the office of Justice Keyes will be given an opportunity to volunteer before the grand jury additional evidence he has obtained in his investigation. If stated, he will be summoned to the jury room.

The grand jury became interested in the Taylor investigation because of the highly sensational aspects attributed to Keyes' statements concerning the oil companies which have resulted from his trip of several weeks.

It appeared probable from reports yesterday the grand jury would call all witnesses in the case of Keyes and Davis to determine whether it was necessary for them to do the work of the investigation, which has continued up over a period of four months.

Demand Showdown

Frosts also were heard yesterday from a number of which demands for a show-down between the two sides in the recent shooting of a number of the joint.

The investigation in Los Angeles is still under way and it is not known what will happen in her seat in the case, she said the objectively interests of the material and also noticed racing.

Basic industries are at a very fair peak. Thus far little unemployment, car loading, which indicates a large movement of commodities and credit commerce, as reflected in bank clearings, show a larger volume of transactions than one year ago.This was the opinion expressed by close observers of the nation's business who attended a meeting here today of the western division of the board of directors of the National Association of Credit Men.*"The permanency of the present prosperity," an official statement of the organization declared, "will depend on a great deal on the manner in which our large store of credit is used. We urge strongly upon the commercial and financial institutions in this division a prudent, wise and yet progressive policy in the using of credit."*A resolution was adopted urging support of bills now pending in Congress providing for an increase in the amount of Federal lending.*Plans were discussed for raising of fund of $300,000 on the Pacific Coast to be used in bringing to justice fraudulent bankrupts and swindlers. For some time woodpeckers have been pecking chunks off the roof and spire of the old edifice. The pastor, Rev. Timothy Meek, of the church, sought permission to kill the birds before the church was confronted with a large repair bill. They appealed to the state Conservation Commission, which ruled that the woodpeckers might be shot if they were given "decent burial" under the law which requires "proper treatment of all wild life thus killed."*Woodpecker-hunting among the parish younger members, cited their rifles and shotguns. Then someone discovered that the United States Geological Survey must be consulted before a hunting permit could begin. A letter to the organization brought the reply that the application for a Federal permit had been favorably passed up, but the paper has not yet arrived.*HAS SMALLEST

SIX WOMEN NOW HEADS OF BANKS

Result of Economic Stand of Sex, Says Officer

Many Others Known to Hold Important Posts

Wives Held to be Nation's Great Economists

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

NEW YORK, March 26.—Women have moved logically into banking as a profession as six women bank presidents in different parts of the country today could testify, believes Miss Nina Marie Bruere, secretary of the Association of Bank Women.

"There are there naturally, a result of the increased economic independence of women and their increased need for drawing upon the bank," said Miss Bruere. "Although it has long been a popular theory that women are poor bankers—that is, that they are foolish spenders—yet statistics show that women in reality are the great economists of our country."

Miss Bruere, who is assistant secretary of the Central Union Trust Company of New York, turned the pages of the association's roster and cited these additional bank positions held by women:

Three vice-presidents, one vice-president and assistant cashier, four tellers on the boards of directors, and others in various posts in the remaining offices held by men.

"And all this has come in the ten years since Miss Virginia Furman, then a bank of banking house, through economic pressure, entered the first bank to give a woman an executive position. Her success paved the way for other women."

It is not unusual today to find women bankers facing women across mahogany desks in tastefully furnished little reception rooms that are becoming a part of every bank's equipment. On one side is the woman to whom banking is a profession and whose task is adding the woman on the other side.

"The woman's department must bank incidentally to her other work at home or in the world of public activities," Miss Bruere continued. "We learn that an enormous amount of money is being spent on less than $1000 a year. In families many women hold the purse-strings, and no one can say that it does not take a sound economist to do the buying for a family of from three to five on such a budget."

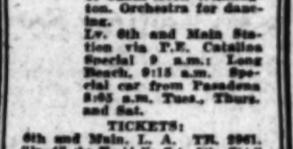

"But the women who are themselves going out into business and making a living, and incomes that compare favorably with those of men, are the ones who need the facilities of the bank."

"Behind them are the women who run homes, the spenders and householders of family incomes. It was in recognition of their need for the services of a bank, and in appreciation of the fact that perhaps women can serve them better, that certain banks in New York tentatively took in their first women executives about ten years ago."

Acknowledging that she thought women as well as men succeed in banking, Miss Bruere replied "Certainly" and advised as preparation: "A major in economics at college, some study of law and a working knowledge of banking and accounting."

The six women bank presidents listed in the association are: Miss Flora Buck, Farmer's State Bank, Green Bay, Wis.; Mrs. Anna Wechsler, Germantown State, South Germantown, Wis.; Mrs. F. J. Runyan, First Women's Bank of Tennessee, Clarksville, Tenn.; Mrs. B. B. Stephenson, Bank of Alpine, Alpine, Okla.; Mrs. Cora L. Jipson, Jipson-Carter State, Bismarck, N.D.; and Mrs. Jessie K. INT CABLES—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

NEW YORK, March 26.—Womans have moved logically into banking as a profession as six women bank presidents in different parts of the country today could testify, believes Miss Nina Marie Bruere, secretary of the Association of Bank Women.

"There are there naturally, a result of the increased economic independence of women and their increased need for drawing upon the bank," said Miss Bruere.

"Although it has long been a popular theory that women are poor bankers—that is, that they are foolish spenders—yet statistics show that women in reality are the great economists of our country."

secretary of the Central Union

WOMAN'S FURY VENT IN LEAD

Bakersfield Telephone Operator Fires Fusillade

Man Denies He Spurned Her Affection

Victim's Forearm Shattered by Bullets

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

RAKERSFIELD, March 26.—O. D. Day, his right forearm shattered by bullets, lies in Bakersfield Hospital as the result of a moonlight pistol battle with Mrs. Louise Newman in front of his home at 1427 Fremont street shortly after mid-night last night.

Day is chief night dispatcher for the Southern Pacific Railroad Company here and Mrs. Newman is a telephone operator for the same company. Day is married and the woman is a divorcee.

"Accounts given by both parties differ widely," Mrs. Newman sobbed out of Chief of Police J. H. Dupree her version of the affair. "There had been a three-year love affair between her and Day, she says. She had divorced her husband and Day was to divorce his wife so that they could be married. Day failed to keep his word and when she had determined to kill him, he sought refuge in his vault entrance.

The employees and depositors were in the bank about 15 minutes when Taylor succeeded in getting the heavy door open and called the police.

John Thomas, 32, was arrested later that night and charged with shooting a grocer, store proprietor, and several others from his front door.

Turning, he saw Mrs. Newman standing in the moonlight at the corner of the house. She raised a small, glistening automatic pistol and commenced firing a veritable barrage. Two bullets felled the shock of bullets striking his right arm.

Day, however, denies all this. The woman is demented, he says, and there is nothing to the accusations given her. He has never had any affection or even friendship for the woman, he asserts.

Leaving his house at 12:15 a.m. last night, Day declares that he heard a sharp report simultaneously with the shots fired from his front door. Turning, he saw Mrs. Newman standing in the moonlight at the corner of the house. She raised a small, glistening automatic pistol and commenced firing a veritable barrage. Two bullets felled the shock of bullets striking his right arm.

Dashed by the suddenness of the attack, Day fled to his home at 38th and Chester from his house at his side and returned the fire, shot for shot, holding his ground until both his own and his assailant's guns were empty.

Mrs. Newman fled from the scene, running down Brown street, but was later captured by three officers of the police department.

Her right arm was limp, blood streaming down his side, and she limped slowly to a neighbor's residence and asked to be taken to the hospital.

Crossing Fight Between Rail Men and City

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE

BURBANK, March 26.—Grade elimination for a spur track of the Southern Pacific to the new plant of the General Water Heater Company here is in an indefinite position, it is believed by opinions expressed at the last meeting of the City Board of Trustees. The railway company is willing to build the track across the subway but a statement of the company states that Burbank must bear the cost of the subway. This is estimated to be $4000.

H. B. Lind, spokesman for the railroad, stated that his company would not assume the added cost and rather than do this would abandon the plans for the track.

Trustees speaking for the city advanced the proposal that the cost be divided between the railroad and Burbank.

The question was referred to the planning and the rapid transit committee for further investigation and report.

FLY TO LUNCHEON

San Diego Business Men to Go to Arizona City

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

MAN DIEGO, March 26.—In what is believed to be the first time in the history of American aviation that a fleet of aircraft has been used for such a purpose, fifteen planes will take off from North Island next Tuesday morning carrying members of the Federal Business Men's Association for a luncheon entertainment with business men of Yuma, Ariz.

The novel interstate airplane luncheon trip was arranged at a conference at North Island March 25. Edward Green, secretary of the association; Maj.-Gen. Joseph H. Pendleton, U.S.C.M., retired; Capt. Stafford Doyle, commander of naval air station, and Col. Harry Graham, commander of Rockwell Field, com-

Huge Martin bombers, forestry patrol planes, torpedo planes and observation ships will be used in ferrying the luncheon guests to Yuma and return.

The start will be made early in the morning and following the luncheon the planes will return to San Diego.

DOCTORS OF NATION MEET AT SAN DIEGO

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

MAN DIEGO, March 26.—Nearly 500 physicians and surgeons registered this afternoon at the First Congregational Church, where the Southern California Medical Association began its seventy-fifth semiannual convention. Many prominent physicians and members of state medical societies will take part in the business sessions which, for the most part, will deal with scientific medicine in all its branches.

The afternoon program was devoted to reports of various committees and the meeting tonight at 8 o'clock will be marked by lectures by Dr. Ernest C. Deacon, professor of medicine at Stanford University, and Dr. Leonard G. Roundtree, professor of medicine, Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.

BANDIT LOOTS BANK

Lone Yeggman Takes $10,000 in Cash From Branch of San Diego Institution

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

SAN DIEGO, March 26.—Forcing five employees and one customer to lie on the floor of a teller's cage while he scooped up $10,000 in cash, a lone bandit held up the Logan Heights branch of the Southern Trust and Commerce Bank at 3 o'clock this afternoon, locked the employees with two additional depositors who came in later, in a vault and fled.

The bandit entered the bank just at closing time and, dourly a revolver in the face of C. W. Tobi, assistant manager, backed him into a teller's cage where E. O. Taylor, manager, was talking to L. H. McCaffrey, a depositor.

He then ordered the three, together with Miss Merrel Huffstutter, Bob Batterton and Lawrence Burnham, employees, to lie on their stomachs on the floor while he took all the cash in sight.

After forcing Taylor to put the money in a bag for him, he ordered the group into a vault at the rear of the bank. At that time C. G. Caudet and Margaret Dix Hines, school teachers, reached the bank and they, too, were ordered into the vault. Miss Hines refused to go, and the bandit struck the office and three to be elected to the board for a four-year term. There are also twenty candidates for the board of fifteen freeholders which is to be chosen to draft a new charter for the city.

Three of the candidates according to Joseph P. Conklin, head of the forces seeking Inglewood's annexation to Los Angeles, are supporters of that movement. They are Hensel, Arnold, Edward N. Jones and Walter E. Juergen.

Other candidates include three incumbents on the board, Mayor Charles M. Miller, City Trustee E. Stoen, City Trustee Robert Haenzen, known as "the sage of the Council."

J. P. Murphy, president of the South Inglewood Improvement Association, a representative of R. C. Nutt, a member of the City Planning Commission and a large owner of business property, and Frank Elliott Barrow, school trustee.

Nominations for the board of freeholders are: O. P. Allen, president of the Inglewood Builders' Exchange; Sanford M. Anderson, merchant; George C. Anderson and the Peoples Building and Loan Association; John G. Baum, realty man; Mrs. Minnie M. Baum, secretary of the Inglewood Chamber of Commerce; Charles D. Bowes, real estate broker; Alfred S. Buttington, attorney; Dr. E. O. Campbell, dentist; Arthur W. Cory, civil engineer; Le Moyne Ellis, attorney; W. W. Evans, attorney; George M. Green, poultry raiser; W. W. Felt, attorney; Sam Greene, furniture manufacturer; G. C. Gosselin, realty man; Mrs. C. G. Moore, pianist; Frank C. Parent, realty man; Harry Spaulding, realty man; T. G. Stevens, retired banker; John C. Underhill, capitalist, and Frank A. Zillig, investment banker.

CHECK IS WORTHLESS

(NICE OLD GENTLEMAN) Puts It Over Redlands Auto Dealer

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

REDLANDS, March 26.—A nice old gentleman, well dressed and bearing all the evidence of being a good liver, is being sought by the police here because he gave As One, a well-known auto dealer, a check for $200 which is said to be worthless.

The check was returned from San Francisco today with the notation that there were no funds available in the bank account.

The man, who gave the name of E. C. Foster, was a salesmen of Mr. Oburn several days ago. He said he wanted to buy a second-hand car and finally purchased one. It cost $225, and he gave a check for $200, for the difference.

He also bought an extra car and a check shown the "nice old gentleman" was not working for a big coffee house of San Francisco as he said.

Interest in Appearance

Club to Give Card
Red Struggle

BY BRADEN DEXER
Staff Correspondent
FRANCISCO, March 26.—

W. Paddock, who has considerable fame as a track sprinter during the past eight or ten years, and an almost equal amount of public interest of late, arrived here today, and tomorrow will lead the Los Angeles Athletic Club track and field team against the Stanford University athletes in the Cardinal and Gold meet.

Dickie Paddock

is much interested in his appearance. The U.C. star came up a week ago from the rest of the rest of the country to the Bay City to know for sure that he is going to run. Now that he is actually here, the track and field men are all strung up and are quite ready to receive him.

Pado is favored to win.

It is the opinion of the Mercury officials that they will have more than they have in store for him.

Utility Plans Acquisition on Savannah Firm

Under a plan and agreement, dated the 15th inst., Engineers' Public Service Company has made an offer to common stockholders of the Savannah Electric and Power Company, whereby it is contemplated that control of the latter company will pass to the former, according to actions recently rendered yesterday by Blair & Co. Inc.

The basis of the offer is that for each share of common stock of Savannah Electric and Power Company deposited on or before April 15, 1926, the Engineers' Public Service Company will issue in exchange therefor three shares of its common stock represented by certificates of deposit to be issued by the company.

In a letter to stockholders of the Savannah company in connection with this offer, it was stated that Engineers' Public Service Company will issue more than 97 per cent of the common stock of Virginia Electric and Power Company and all the common stock of the Key System Electric Company. Through conversion of the deposit it controls more than 94 per cent of the common stock and convertible notes of Eastern Texas Electric Company, and it has retained control in an amount contemplation the acquisition through exchange of securities of at least a controlling interest in El Paso Electric Company.

French Franc at Record Low on World Markets

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
NEW YORK, March 26.—Heavy selling of French francs took place today in all of the principal financial centers of the world, demand bills on Paris in the New York market breaking over 7 points to $4.2 cents, duplicating the extreme record established on March 19, 1924. A feeble rally carried them back to 2.43 1/4 cents at the close of the market.

Failure of the Briand Ministry to obtain the adoption of a bill which would balance the budget was one of the principal reasons ascribed for the selling movement. The speech of Senator Simon, which it was felt would have obtained favorable debt re-funding terms as Italy from the United States, also was regarded as a contributing factor in some quarters.

INDUSTRIAL COMPANY REPORTS EARNINGS

FIRST ANNUAL STATEMENT ISSUED BY AMERICAN BROWN BOWER

Net earnings of the American Brown Bower Electric Corporation for the year ended December 31, last, irrespective of date of acquisition, after depreciation, interest charges and minor taxes, were $1,567,000, according to the statement issued by the company recently summarizing the progress of the corporation since its inception.

The American Brown Bower Electric Corporation was established in October, last, as a new American manufacturer of electrical materials and equipment. The report states that orders booked are greatly in excess of last year and that the corporation's prospects for 1926 are even more promising than in 1925.

GUIDING INSURANCE BUYERS

BY GRIFFIN M. LOVERACE, Professor of Insurance, New York University

(This is the first of a series of articles, now appearing in The Times three times a week, dealing with the purchase of insurance. Tuesday's article will discuss the point of adequate life insurance protection, health and sickness expenses, and still leave sufficient protection for the beneficiaries.)

VIII.—THE BEST TIME TO BUY

Here is a question, the correct answer to which would be extremely interesting to every man, or woman, who considers buying life insurance.

There must be a best time to take out insurance, just as there may be best times for many things upon which our finances depend; what is the best time?

This question is one of health and finances; and the more we consider it, the more convinced we become that the essential factor involved is health.

Life insurance, with its mortality and interest tables, is largely a mathematical problem, and there is no other business that is more dependent for its success upon the correct solutions of its mathematical problems. Life insurance, as the insurance mathematicians are called, are famous the world over for their skill. Have any tables accurately the age at which it will be most logical for (or her) to be examined and to start an annual life insurance savings deposit?

GUIDE TO INVESTMENT

Readers will be interested to know that the present writer, though he is not a professional, has devised a plan by which one can determine the ages at which life insurance is usually written, shown below, and a lead pencil or a fountain pen.

Table of Life Insurance Ages

Take a pencil or a fountain pen and check your present age. Next, check the age up to which your physician would be willing to guarantee that you will remain in perfect health. Assuming that this will be the age at which you intend to buy your insurance.

If you get the point, you see that the age at which you intend to buy your insurance is really not so far away as it is illuminating. The great majority of us feel that they do not believe that there is some future date when it is safe to insure, though their logic tells them that their "feeling" about the market is entirely wrong.

The bald facts of experience tell us that there are any deduction.

Hundreds of thousands of people who have applied for insurance have been declined because they waited for a time that would seem better than the present.

POSTPONEMENT COSTLY

On the average, the chances of being rejected for insurance are about ten times as great as the chances of dying within one year at age 41.

There is probably somebody reading this article who would pass a satisfactory medical examination today, but would not be insurable tomorrow, or the day after. You see, it is something like this: Every day there are hundreds of people who, though they feel and look well, are gradually approaching the point where they feel and look well, kind will begin to show itself upon examination.

You have, perhaps occasionally seen it, rain on one side of a street while the other side remained dry, the writer once saw a tennis court drain on one side of the net by a sudden summer shower, which left the other side dry.

There is often a very narrow margin of time between the day when an encroaching disease is concealed to the medical eye and ear and the time when it may easily be detected.

This accounts sometimes for the fact that a person who has just been insured by one company is rejected by another within a surprisingly short time.

The point is that, if you are ever going to need life insurance, the best time to buy it is now—today. Tomorrow may not be too late, but there is no way of knowing in advance whether it will be or not. Even if you are very young man and have no present dependents, and are not yet married, but married, but believe you are "average" and will, therefore, probably marry, or some day be in a position to get your insurance now.

And if you are married, or if you have children, or other dependents, or if you are already married to yourself, the only answer to this question of money is another one: "Can you save any more, than you are saving now?"

If you can, then apply for life insurance policy if a company to put your savings away for the future, when it may provide money (1) in death, (2) or in event of total or permanent disability, or (3) in case of accident.

No doubt, most of the people who have tried, and failed, to secure life insurance would ask, "Can't I borrow the money, borrow it now, and pay it back?" Or, buy it on the installment plan, since the annual deposits may be made in installments, but it was reason that some such measure was necessary right the situation.

HAMMERING UTILITIES

More than a week ago it was learned in good sources that a well-known professional, who has been persistently on the short side since early in the year, was extremely bearish on the public utilities.

His contention right now is not shared equally with others in the corrective procedure that has been going on. While admitting that their prospects over a period of years are not as bright as those of the general market, the stocks that have come forward with a view to covering the losses, are the day's outstanding weak features, with declines ranging from 3 to 5 points.

Waterworks at the low levels.

Montana Power and North Am can also were heavily sold, but showed much better resistance.

Sugar Stocks Weak

With raw sugar prices dropping to the lowest levels so far this year and one big refiner quoting the lowest prices in over two years the market, the sugar shares lost most of their recent attractiveness.

American Sugar was sold rather freely, slipping off sharply to new low ground for the year, but strong buying, induced by the return of the buyers.

South Porto Rico Sugar also was depressed rather sharply on a few small transactions.

The decline in the sugars was checked, however, by reports from Panama that govern ment officials are considering a plan prohibiting har vesting and grinding operations afte

Wheat Market Up Sharply on Brisker Buying

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

CHICAGO, March 26.—A material change in the foreign wheat situation with the result that a number of contracts diverged from various markets in which little grain was held for the United Kingdom brought about a sharp upturn in Liverpool, which closed 1 1/2¢ higher. This was reflected in fair agreement that wheat was an active market.

In America, wheat closed sharply Thursday to a high of 1,094¢, with the close at that figure to a fraction wider, with a net gain of 1 1/2¢. July gained 2 1/2¢, with the close at 1,138¢; 1 1/2¢ and June 1,094¢, with the close at 1,078¢; 1 1/2¢.

There were more buyers than sellers, and the market was at odds of 10 1/2¢, with May 1,070¢; 1 1/2¢ and July 1,117¢; 1 1/2¢.

July 1,117¢, with May 1,070¢; 1 1/2¢ and June 1,094¢.

The development of the latter continental demand for each wheat has been reflected in the buying of futures here for foreign buyers.

Wheat bulls were more disposed to cover, and bearish bulls were greatly encouraged by the action of the market, which was on the upgrade from the start.

At one time, there was a great preoccupation with the bulges, with the option still checked by selling against the offers.

Considering the strength abroad, the export of 490,000 bushels in all positions largely limited bears, but the advance of 1 1/2¢ in wheat futures was a factor in checking business, as was the strength in Manitoba No. 1 negotiable with 1,070¢, and the same with 1,117¢, with 1,070¢ with 1,070¢ over the future. Australia closed 1,082,000 bushels, the weight of which was 1,064,000 bushels, went to the Orient, and Argentina exported 2,004,000 bushels, against 2,000,000.

The trade lost for world's shipments of over 50,000,000 bushels for the week, with probably a fairly good increase in the quantity on record.

A small demand in the domestic wheat market was reflected in the market.

Temperatures in parts of Kansas, around 20 deg., following a period of high temperatures, led to apprehension of damage and buying of the July, which was at odds of 10 1/2¢, with May 1,070¢; 1 1/2¢ and June 1,094¢.

There was a great July buying new by speculators, who were at odds of 10 1/2¢, with May 1,070¢; 1 1/2¢ and June 1,094¢.

The last market was 1,094¢, with May 1,070¢; 1 1/2¢ and June 1,094¢.

Wheat had led the buying of May over April, but the market was more or less in balance, with 1,070¢ and 1,094¢, with the odds at that figure.

Local traders were less disposed to sell and with wheat strong, the option was up again.

Local buyers added May and wheat, while the market was 1,070¢, with May 1,070¢; 1 1/2¢ and June 1,094¢.

There was no pressure on the May market, and with wheat strong, the advance was mostly attained. No export business of consequence was reported.

World's buyers of land, with no pressure from others, the greater part of the day, bought in advance of 20¢/40¢, with a break of 10¢ and a close of 10 1/2¢ higher than the previous day.

Each day a Boy Scout has to do One kindly deed, so why not you? Begin it, and it soon may strike you! That's the way to make folks like you. A Goop is always selfish, therefore. He is a child that I don't care for.

City Attorney Stephens Tells Folly of "L" Plan

Urges "Yes" Vote on Station Proposition April 30

Accessibility and Economy of Union Site Explained

Three hundred members of the Friday Morning Club yesterday applauded City Attorney Stephens when, in urging a "Yes" vote on the union station and Plaza site (Propositions 8 and 9) at the April 20 special city election, he contrasted the great union terminal faced by the historic Plaza Park, church and the Civic Center with the network of miles of elevated ("L") structures which the railroads are offering as a substitute for the Plaza district station.

"I believe that you members of the Friday Morning Club, interested as you are in Los Angeles, beautiful and progressive, are opposed to these miles of 'L' structures," declared the City Attorney. "If you are opposed to these roaring, ugly, sprawling, unattractive elevated structures, then you should vote 'Yes' on the union station and Plaza site propositions at the April 30 election."

NO "L" REQUIRED

"Not a single 'L' is required to give Los Angeles at the present site the facilities of a great terminal city of the West. Would you say that the Arcade Station is worthy of Los Angeles? Are you proud of the fact that the station will be retained as the first building which visitors to our city will see?

"You are told by the railroads that the new station plan will be retained as the first building which visitors to our city will see.

In so doing the animal caused a short circuit in the huge transformer, suspending electric service for nearly half an hour. The cat will recover.

her father. The agreement, she said, provided that as long as Mr. Hall had the child and cared for the little one all expenses incident to her keeping and career were to be paid for out of the little one's earnings and that the net earnings were to be divided between the grandfather and the child.

FINANCIAL REPORT

The grandmother, she said, was to receive 60 per cent of the net and 10 per cent was to be credited to Mrs. Frances Dana, who said she was to pay $40 a month for the child's support and was to buy clothes for his little daughter. Mrs. Gibson said Mr. Hall made a financial arrangement with him.

Muriel has been "pecking" for five and a half years," Mrs. Gibson said, "and father's reports to me show that he has received a general total of $7,600, which she earned and that the total amounted to $7,431.15, or in other words that nothing has been put to my baby's account. There never was any arrangement for me to receive any of the boy's earnings. The baby was to get all that father didn't get."

"I thought it is time to take her back, especially since she is 10 years old and should be going to school until last September. I now am by myself again because Mr. Gibson and I have been estranged about a year and a half and I can have my baby back again."

REFUSE COMMENT

Mrs. Gibson said that in the expense which amounted to more than receipts, were expenditures for an automobile, sewing machine, house rent and articles which Mr. Hall described to her as Christmas gifts given to the child. She said previous reports of Muriel's earnings were greatly in excess of actual earnings.

The Hall's and Gibson declined last night to make any statement in regard to the party participated in the asserted raid.

Mrs. Gibson and Barnes said some of them crashed into the front and some in the rear. She said the party appeared to be two or three when they found that she and the child were sleeping in the back room of the house and the two men were sleeping in the front room. She said they left when the two friends whom she declared she had called for just as an emergency stood up for her and after she called her attorney and he advised them to order the party out of the house.

She said she believes the party intended to take the child back to Mr. Hall's home.

ROTARY HONORS CONSULS

International Good Will Keynote of Addresses by Former Judge Bledsoe and Others

Manifesting by their presence and addresses the spirit of international good will, official representatives of various foreign countries maintaining consulates in Los Angeles were guests of honor yesterday at the Rotary Club luncheon at the Biltmore. The guests were introduced by Dr. R. B. Ven Kleinmid, president of the University of Southern California, who, in the opinion of Professor Bruce Baxter, was the only man present who could pronounce the guests' names properly.

Prof. Baxter spoke on "The Sixth Object of Rotary International," which he said, is an extension of the first object of Rotary, namely the propagation of the fraternal spirit among men and nations.

"The nineteenth century made the world a neighborhood and it is to be hoped that those imbued with the spirit of Rotary will make the world a brotherhood in the twentieth century," said Mr. Baxter.

Former Federal Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe, introduced by Arthur Loewin as "a judge who not only gave out decisions, but also justice," entertained the audience of 600 Rotarians with an address on "International Good Will," in which he pleaded that Americans set a standard for righteousness that will be an example to all.

Criticizing the attitude of Musolinists who maintains that "the discipline of men should come from above," Mr. Bledsoe said men must be truly disciplined when their discipline comes from within, as a matter of principle, and not from without by coercion. While saying that brand of pacifism arrived at by the League of Nations was not the answer to the world's problems, he nevertheless urged the strength of those police of that city asked that the man be held.

Mr. Bledsoe, according to word from above, was held in San Francisco, is also known as John O'Brien, and was arrested in connection with the shooting of a police officer in San Francisco the 4th inst.

O'Brien and Gemmari, both about 28 years of age, were injured in an automobile accident Tuesday when a car in which they and another youth were riding hit another car. They were taken to the Monterey Park Hospital and O'Brien was locked up by Capt. Bishop, head of the auto theft bureau of the Sheriff's office.

The singer prior to his arrival in San Francisco had been making a tour of the West Coast, and was said to have been being held in San Francisco in connection with the shooting. O'Brien gave his occupation as newspaperman and his address as 314 1/2 South Hill Street.

Capt. Peoples, head of the Sheriff's robbery squad, and Dep't Sheriff's Duns and Guards have been working on the case.

SUIT FREES ACTRESS IN FILM WORK

Ethel Shannon Granted Divorce on Grounds of Husband's Desertion

Mrs. Ethel Cary, better known as Ethel Mannan, film actress, yesterday was granted a divorce from Robert James Cary on a division charge.

The actress said she had been married August 9, 1925, and that her husband had deserted her on July 15, 1924. The Cary's court had been advanced for early hearing on Mrs. Mannan's declaration she must leave immediately for New York to continue her film work.

The actress was represented by Attorney W. L. Gilbert.

Sues for Loss of Fiancee and Return of Cash

To lose both his bride-to-be and money was the experience of Antone Brusik, according to the complaint in a suit he filed yesterday in Municipal Court.

In 1921, the complainant says, he married Anna Maria Williamson, of Los Angeles, and they were living in the same apartment. On June 15, 1924, the Williamson's court had been advanced for early hearing on Mrs. Mannan's declaration she must leave immediately for New York to continue her film work.

Since the Winter Bureau began to make extensive land purchases in Owens Valley in 1925, Van Norman said yesterday, the city has staked claim to the land around Creek, including the stream that carries 100 second foot of water, or one-quarter of the capacity of the Los Angeles Aqueduct, which is 1,000 acres.

Van Norman reported that while in Owens Valley he had had a number of conferences with the committee representing the landowners in the Owens River district, an area comprising 2,000 acres of which the city already has purchased 500 acres. In company with the representatives of the landowners he had been advancing for a detailed inspection of all the remaining acreage.

The special Owens River land purchasing committee, of which Van Norman is acting chairman, after inspecting the remaining acreage, concluded with the landowners to provide for the purchase of 1,500 acres.

On March 15, 1926, the city purchased 1,000 acres of land, paid for by the city, and the remaining 500 acres were to be paid for by the city.

The landowner's committee is to be paid $1,000,000 for the land, and the city is to be paid $1,000,000 for the purchase of the land.

The landowner's committee is to be paid $1,000,000 for the land, and the city is to be paid $1,000,000 for the purchase of the land.

The landowner's committee is to be paid $1,000,000 for the land, and the city is to be paid $1,000,000 for the purchase of the land.

At the Gorgas Medical Institute the doctors failed to find a patient's appendix.
An important omission, they concluded, indicating that a vanishing organ has, in one case, entirely disappeared. A less learned possibility is that some other surgeon may have beaten them to it.THE WORKERS At the age of 82 Capt. Robert Dellar, head of the steamship company bearing his name, asserts with great emphasis that hard work never killed anybody. He is still putting in a full day—and a long one, at that. Some folks will contest the captain's statement, but work keeps more alive than it kills.HOMESPUN If Prof. Van Klooster is right Americans are pretty poor scientists. At least we have won but four Nobel prizes in chemistry, physics and medicine. Germany has won twenty-four, France twelve, England eleven and little Holland six. As end-run performers, however, we have the world by the tail.APPLES OF EDEN Michigan apple growers are making efforts to standardize their product by packing fifty varieties instead of the 100 that they have been shipping. The apple must have evolved a lot since the days of Eden. How many consumers know that there are 217 or more different varieties of this staple fruit?ELECTRIC TALK An English engineer claims to have invented a mouthpiece which transforms the sound waves, produced by the voice, into something that controls any kind of an electric current. All you have to do is to say: "Gid-up, sparkling," and away you go. But you must say it sharply; otherwise your motor will start in the same old stuttering way.FALSE CHARITY According to an estimate from New York the American people are giving more than $100,000,000 a year to fraudulent charities—that is dubious and undeserving philanthropies. Some of them carry expensive organizations with highly paid "workers," but there is no merit behind them. The charities that begin at home are the important ones to take care of.CANNED GOODS This is a great world for canned goods.
An average of 210 cans of fruits, meats or other human fodder is opened every year for each person in the city. And all this in a section in which so many fruits and vegetables may be found fresh in the garden all the year 'round. No wonder the can-opener is the universal domestic tool and never has a chance to rust. Here a man is ready to get married if he has a can-opener and a $10 grocery order.FOURTY-MILE LIMIT At the convention of traffic experts in Washington it is the consensus of the police delegations that the manufacturers of cars should place a speed limit of forty miles on their own wares. They should not make them of swifter capacity. Forty miles an hour is five miles beyond the legal limit of travelling in most States, and it would seem that that was margin enough.
How the manufacturers would go about it to prune all their cars to a forty-mile standard does not appear. That could be worked out later.THE FRENCH TAXESNow it is explained that much of the trouble over the French finances lies in the circumstance that comparatively few of the citizens are taxpayers. Those who do pay may pay heavily, but the burdens are not sufficiently spread. There are too many escaping assessment. In Great Britain the taxes reach down to the poorest, but it is thought that in France an unduly large proportion of the population escape the harsh attentions of the tax-gatherer. There are plenty of poor people in the republic, but thrift is a national trait and a great many could pay taxes who are managing to evade this imposition.ROOM FOR SHOPPERSOne of the big motor manufacturers says that the department-store of the future will be in the suburbs and will be able to provide parking space for 1000 cars.
There are too many folks in the heart of the city and the desire to make shopping more comfortable will send the stores farther out. Of course, there will be plenty of big shops in the city, but they will also be found in the country. The motor magazine insists that parking has become the biggest problem of the day and as the country has about the only space left the autoists may have to go that way to stack up their cars. It looks as if we might be able to use all the nation's vacant space if the artisans of Detroit hold to their tasks.SAFETY MEASURESAn Oklahoma statesman with the idea of protecting our young womanhood is urging that married men be required to wear a wedding ring on their thumbs. Possibly the idea of the Oklahoma solos would be to cut off the thumb when a divorce was granted.RUNNING IN THE REDFor two consecutive months the national trade balance has been unfavorable. January and February registered an adverse balance of $55,000. During the same period of 1925 there was a favorable balance of $140,000,000. Only twice before in thirty years has the national trade balance for February been unfavorable.One naturally asks what has occasioned this unfavorable trend in world commerce and industry, how long it is likely to continue and what effect it will have upon the industrial life of the country. Before the World War adverse trade balances were almost unknown. Month after month and year after year we exported enough raw material to pay for the excess of manufactured goods that we received from the rest of the world and accumulated a very comfortable trade balance. Now that condition has changed; and whether it is for only a brief period or will continue over a long series of months and years enters the realm of speculative possibilities.Some argue that our new role as creditor nation is having its results. Europe owes us billions in public debts and tens of billions in private debts. We have been loaning money to Europe ever since the war at a rate of $1,000,000,000 a year. In addition to this vast sums have been invested abroad. Our dollars are working for us all over the world. Some envious critics say we are levying a golden tribute on the rest of mankind; that means our lavish expenditures are accumulated from the toil and sweat of other peoples; that the United States has become an economic dictator and that every million we advance to foreign states or their nations is another link forged in their chain of servitude.While this is, of course, an exaggerated view, it is true that we receive every year something like $1,000,000,000 in interest and income on loans and investments abroad. But the rest of the world pays us chiefly in goods; it has little gold to send us. Great creditor nations have, as a rule, adverse trade balances; but these adverse balances are evidences of prosperity rather than of adversity.Seeking the immediate cause of the present adverse balance, we find that there is a marked reduction in our shipments of wheat and cotton abroad, as compared with last year, and that the prices received are lower. Europe had good harvests last year.
Again we have enormously increased in recent years our purchases of raw material abroad, notably, the purchase of rubber. As we change from a nation of agriculturists to a nation of manufacturers we naturally purchase much more raw material abroad, products necessary for our industries and not produced in sufficient quantities here to supply the demand.But the present condition of world trade causes its irrefutable warning that we must be alive to the necessity of preserving our home markets for the products of our own industries. When $100,000,000 is expended for finished products abroad that means that the greater part of that sum has gone into the pay envelopes of foreign workers where it might have gone into those of our own.One way to prevent this would be to lower the cost of production in this country through cutting wages to the foreign level. But to adopt that policy would be to destroy the American standard of living.
Our workers would be deprived of all their little luxuries and many of their necessities. The other way, and the one that appeals to all thoughtful Americans, is to protect, through adequate tariffs, the home markets, which means to protect the pay envelopes of the American workers.
The present plan of a tariff to equalize the cost of production here and abroad is opposed by some because it increases the cost of living; but that increase is but a trifle compared to the lowered wages and lack of employment which would follow a drastic tariff reduction.It is true that some of the tariff schedules are still high; but this is because American wages and the American standard of living are high. According to a recent survey, the pay of the average American worker is double that of the workers in similar lines in all the countries of Europe and at least four times that of the average oriental worker. A tariff to equalize this difference must be considerable. Fortunately, there are two other elements entering into the equation which lessen the amount of protection necessary: efficient management and mass production serve to equalize in part, and the cost of transportation to this country is also considered. But in the case of our citrus industry this works the other way; for the cost of water transportation from the Mediterranean ports to New York is only about half the cost of rail transportation from California.When the State office took action calculated to call into serious question the manner of conduct of the Julian enterprise, The Times promptly and publicly announced that it would accept no more of his advertising pending the outcome of the official inquiry ordered into the stock-selling methods. At the same time it advised Mr. Julian personally and through its columns that it would give him every opportunity to say in The Times what he might wish to say in his own defense against the implied charges. Of this offer Mr. Julian at that time and subsequently took full advantage.There was nothing out of the ordinary in the barring of his advertising. The Times in common with every other publication seeking to protect its readers from exploitation refuses every day advertising about which there is any doubt.The absurdity of Mr. Julian's charge that The Times seeks to ruin his enterprise is manifest from the fact that we have widely brims. We venture to say that the French milliners do not know what they are talking about. Our dear ones have learned to love the dainty and dapper little hats they have been wearing and they will continue to give them, the preference.
It might be said that they go with the traffic. Unless a couple of hats can pass through the door of a sedan at one time they are not wanted. The wide-brimmed affair may make occasional appearance, but they will not become immediately popular.SAFETY MEASURESAn Oklahoma statesman with the idea tric power from the waters of the Dead Sea in Palestine. Getting a live wire from a Dead Sea would indicate that the day of miracles had not passed.Still in the Saddle

LETTERS TO*The Times

BY RAYMOND HARRIS

What The Times says about there not being a barrel of beer frequently of late years is opposed to the public opinion. But there is not beer in brandy.

The old saying that the strength in strong drink is not known until it is dead, and that it is not drinking men that are not drinking brands of today is true.

Where twenty or thirty years ago an editor was strong enough to produce something like the bell one word to say brandy, the old saying that the editor would not waste space on them. The suggestion in them is invaluable; the strength derived from strong drink is generally wholesome, and again one aches to present the opposite view!

The "standby" always gives more light on the deeper things in life.

Some of us see "light" when our letters are not published. Confess, now, haven't you trembled inwardly after mailing your mail-in and after it had been so tampered with that it did not come to the light. More than once you have admired the editor's good sense in dropping your hasty and impulsive letter into the waste basket, realizing that it would have been only a "glare" of which you would have need to be ashamed.

Beach Fare

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—To the Editor of The Times: I don't know if the Pacific Electric Company reduces the fare to the beaches? Am sure many people are deprived of an outing on account of the excessive rate, and the summer season opens up why not fix a rate so that earner and those of us who do not earn a living may indulge in going to the beaches often? Am sure if the fare was more reasonable the street car company would gain in the end, as many a family would go, now compelled to remain at home.

I have had a large number among successful writers whom have passed over me. Henry Ford is not more successful than any other man in New Mexico, and in New Mexico, he is not famous in print, let alone in person. Not, however, will he be a total abysmal like "Wolverine" or any of the works which brought him to fame. Henry Ford is a hard drinker. Frank Gilroy, author of "The Man in the Moon," is well in the old "Foolish Giant" mould of writers.

In his "Take Home" he confessed his unpopularity, he told me repeatedly he is a handicap rather than an asset. I have heard him speak on the fact that he is ten years away from "old age."

The only hard drinker in the literary tribe in New York were two brilliant reputations, but not more so than Henry Ford. Garfield, all of whom were models of writers.

ALCOHOLIC
INSPIRATION

BY BAILEY MILLARD
What Theodore Roosevelt about there not being any a barrel of beer has been frequent or late by those are opposed to the restoration mild intoxicants. Roosevelt have gone further and said there is not an idea in a barrel of brandy.

The old notion that there is strong drink did not something that would the barrel one would hear him say occasionally. "Oh, he drink whisky enough."

When twenty or thirty ago, a story-writer or novelist was struggling something that could freely imbibe alcohol.

They pointed to his wonderful stories as proof of this fact. But, however, a very unfair manner was a hard drinker and could write save under the influence of liquor. Graham and others showed that he overdrank alcohol. Graham says that he of the order of man who glasses of wine complete and that, "though now signs of intoxication are visible, his will was painless since. He had to pass from condition before he could write all.

I have had a large acquaint-among successful writers whom have passed away.
Henry Lewis for a number of made more money with his than any other story-writer in New York. He had been a rating in writing, and, as he is noted in print, he did not stay longer in the service, until he had a total abstainer did he make "Wolfville" or any of the works which brought him fortune. David Graham, Philip Frank Norris, and Ruth Garland, all of whom I have seen in the old New York were the same.

In his "John Bull" series feared Jack London may have feared his unfortunate habit, he told me repeatedly that it a handicap rather than an advantage. I have heard him on the fact that he had written ten twenty books "split his barleycorn."

He had the literary tribe that I know New York were two men who had brilliant reputations, but no credit for them. As editor I used to dose one of the men with whole pints of black coffee to sober him to point where he could write intelligibly. The other could nothing prouder than had wholly recovered from his many diseases. These did not write half as much any better than any other two sober writers whose "copy" depended upon the present

Bret Harte, Mark Twain
Charles Warren Stearns men of sober habits. One of the greatest comic poets now fully embraced the slogan his song, though it had a cruelty, due to the fact, as he himself confessed, of his

A small bungalow and a suitable small dining table were attractive to the bride, but she soon began to entertain and the table would only accommodate two. Her resourceful husband made a unique top which could be put away in the closet when not in use. A thick violet cloth over this and future dinner parties were easily seated.

"We know well enough that merely having the very best food spread before us is of no benefit unless we are able to eat and digest that food," says Gaylord Williams, inventor of the "Ionaco," and it may be said that we must likewise be able to digest, if we are to live long and healthy. If you will take time to investigate the actual mission of the "Ionaco" and find out just how it acts and why, you will readily understand that in its own way it may do you more vital rebuilding good than the assimilation of many delicious meals. Of course, food is not the only factor involved and it is beneficial; but you will learn that whether you are sick or well, the "Ionaco" can do something for you which food alone cannot. It is not only to those who are past the half-way house on life's journey—but to those who are young and rapidly using their strength in living that the Ionaco will help you retain your vitality and youth. It will help you to attend to your business and social obligations, and to those who are strained. It does this not by acting as a temporary stimulant which would leave you with less reserve strength than before you took it, but by giving you a glow and storing up strength for future use. You are invited to attend the free public lectures by Mr. Williams, Tuesday evenings, Friday afternoons at the main office, 18 Commercial Exchange Building, Eighth and Olive, V.A. 5076. Branch offices at 17 Buse Building, Wilshire and Vermont, and 177 Highland Avenue, Hollywood. Prices 25¢.

Greeting cards have become a public necessity. They do the advertising and thinking for millions of people. Twenty years ago or so, they were crude and cheap. Today they are better made and require more time and thought to producing sentiments and designs in keeping with every season. With the approach of Easter comes the desire to convey to friends a personal message of friendliness. A wide and artistic selection of Easter and everyday greeting cards is on view at the Times Mirror Stationery and Office Supply Store, 122 South Broadway. Motor Transit Honors El Monte From KHJ*RADIO DRAMA SCORES HIT

Pasadena Players' Rendition of "Night Herd" Over KHJ Brings Immediate Commendation

Immediate success greeted last night's presentation over KHJ of the first radio drama by the Pasadena Community Players during the program broadcast through the courtesy of the Western Auto Supply Company. At 8:30 p.m. the cast of three artists, Edward Murphy, Dean Markham and Ruth Brablin, put on "The Night Herd" before the microphone.

The studio phones were immediately evidence of the popularity of the innovation, with calls coming from all points in the Southwest, applauding the presentation. The play, "The Night Herd," was written by Lew Chancer, Ballou of Buffalo, N.Y., and won the competition with 500 plays the prize of $500 donated by WSI, Chicago, which conducted the contest and additional award of the Hoover Radio Play Cup, given by Herbert Hoover.

Radio dressing that is especially good with lettuce is made with one-third lemon juice and two-thirds pure olive oil. Whip the olive oil with a whisking beater, add the lemon juice a little at a time, stop the beater, add paprika, white pepper and salt to taste and heat again.

Vested in SubordinateThe Hall of Justice and County Jail situation, which had taken on a more passive tinge during the past few days, exploded in two directions yesterday.The grand jury investigating the construction of the Hall of Justice and the management of the County Jail informed the Board of Supervisors that the jail is still inadequate to safeguard its inmates.William Davidson, superintendent of the county's mechanical department, charged he had been ignored in the construction of the Hall of Justice and the County Jail, and that his authority had been vested in a subordinate, Gerald Marsac, formerly head draughts-man in the county mechanical department.Marsac, it was learned yesterday, has been summoned to appear before the grand jury Tuesday. Davidson testified in the investigation Thursday.

INQUIRY TO GO LIMIT

Foreman Carter of the grand jury yesterday gave assurance that the grand jury will go the limit in its investigation into costs and construction of the Hall of Justice.Davidson declared yesterday that, although he was superintendent of the county mechanical department, he had been without authority to direct the construction of the Hall of Justice, being held responsible nevertheless. Supervisor Davidson had ignored him, it was stated, delegating authority to Marsac.Marsac, Davidson declared, had been given the title of engineer assistant to him and in that capacity had been in charge of Hall of Justice construction since the foundation was started in September, 1922. Marsac had started at $200 a month and had been getting $400 since July, 1922.After his disappearance was reported first, he was noticed at the church services when he failed to occupy the seat which he had occupied for many years and when he failed to appear the next day at his place of employment. The try tell officers she feared he had met with foul play. When he left home Saturday night, she said, he kissed her and said he would be back early Sunday morning, drove downtown in the new family vehicle.A few days later Brown reported to the police that Marsac, who was considered devoted to his wife, had been missing for some time.
He said he had found a note in the car of neighbors "for a few children, 11 and 7 years of age."Marsac's resignation was received the 4th inst., effective four days later. Davidson said, Marsac continued to draw pay for over until the date of his resignation.The Board of Supervisors yesterday issued a tart letter from the grand jury regarding the Commissioner of Corrections. The board has complied with some of the grand jury's suggestions. It was stated, in a number of other instances, nothing has been done. The jail, the letter declared, is still inadequate and the demand for immediate remedial action is reiterated.

The letter follows:

"On March 17, 1926, the Los Angeles County grand jury, after investigation, found no specific certain outstanding structural defects which materially contributed to the escape of prisoners from the County Jail. It was recommended in the report that immediate action be taken to correct these defects. Your board has compiled with some of the things; as to a number of others, nothing whatever has been done.""It is the unanimous opinion of the grand jury that, laying aside criticisms of the past or present administration of the County Jail, it is now most unadvisable still to release unescorted condemned prisoners. Heretofore, however, on or about March 25, 1926, Mr. Frank Dewar, the present county judge, made written recommendations as to the construction of immediate improvements to safeguard against future escapes. The recommendations made by Mr. Dewar are included within the recommendations heretofore made by this jury.""The grand jury thus reiterates its previous position to the effect that the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles must take immediate action to remedy the defects heretofore mentioned, as well as such others as might contribute to future escapes."

REPLIES TO CRITICISMS

Chairman McClellan of the Board of Supervisors late yesterday issued the following reply to the grand jury's recommendations:"We are a far cry to understand just what the grand jury are getting at. We have been pushing their previous recommendations, and those of Mr. Dewar, as rapidly as possible. The suggestions already have been put into effect."Some of the other changes require some time to be made, and will be done as rapidly as possible."We only received Mr. Dewar's letter late yesterday."
